85 ALLEGED HEADS Put Your Shoulder to the Wheel STOCK SALE STILL

The first few days' drive for $400,000 for a new hotel indicates that the project is going to be put over. The committees in charge of selling stock are making a thorough canvass and are meeting with fair success.

Much credit must be given the men and women who are making the small pledges, for they are showing a civic spirit DAY NETS $11,900 that will not only make possible the much-needed hotel, but they are setting an example for others who have not seen the necessity for everyone getting behind the proposition.

The committees are not overlooking anyone and it is surprising the number of men and women in most moderate circumstances who have signed up for from one to five shares. For them to do this is a real sacrifice in many cases. They are people to whom pledging $100 or $500 means a great deal. Many will have to deny themselves in order to meet the obligation. But it is the alacrity with which this class of stock-buyers accepts the proposition that gives encouragement to the men and women who are devoting their time to raising the money.

However, there are many who have not grasped the true situation. This is evidenced by the fact that some have flatly refused to do their share although they have the means to purchase stock. Some seem to feel that pledging their subscriptions takes the form of a donation. Others admit that they have benefitted by the increased population of the city as the result of the Samson activities, but frankly admit that they are the next four days. willing to let some one else provide funds for a hotel. Those are the next four days.

All hopes for going over the $200.

one thing. Jancsville is on trial, for this is the first time such a request has been made. If we do not respond readily the judgment of the men, who chose this city for the seat of one of the greatest tractor plants in the nation, will be questioned by their associates. More than that if we do not show the men who selected Janesville as the future home of this industry that we can tackle the problems which arise without hesitation, the confidence which they have reposed in our citizens will be shaken.

The Samson Tractor company already has spent millions in this city. It has gone ahead with an extensive program of building. It is going farther. It will not stop in the plans to round out the present plan. But if we do not build a hotel the assumption is safe that it will not expand along the lines planned. If Janesville does not do its duty, the officials will not tear up the work already done, but a new city will loom above us with hotels, stores and other business places and instead of the old Janesville in the first four days.

Jack chose to go into the designing and manufacturing end. He got a job with the Giant Company as a sort of foreman. He was promoted from one position to another. Last time I saw him he was General Manager. Yesterday I heard he has been elected Vice President.

Jack's brother, Bob, took the same cleated Vice President.

Jack's brother, Bob, took the same overall job with an electrical power company. Then he worked for a while as a salesman of electrical appliances for the Powers Company. He worked up to the position of Sales Manager. Three years ago he started a contracting company of his own which deals in electrical supplies and does all sorts of work requiring technical electrical skill. His company has swing some pretty big jobs lately. He can afford a fur overcoat flow just about as well as Jack."

Wall Street Review.

New York, Jan. 24.—Steels and motors monopolized speculative attention during today's brief stock market session, the former for their increased strength and the latter because of their continued weakness. Crucible Steel made an additional advance of more than 12 points in connection with reports of the company's proposed recapitalization and General Motors extended yesterday's loss of 6 points by another 3½ s points. Popular equipments, oils and shippings also scored substantial gains. Lighest outstaions ruled in the later dealings, conceal Motors making full recovery. The closing was strong. Sales approximated 40,000 shares.

The final session of the week on the stock exchange opened with further irregular price changes, although gains predominated. Yesterday's strong features notably independent steels, were again conspicuous under lead of Crucibie Steel, which made a new high equotation for the current movement. Shippings and several of the utilities, including People's Gas, also improved and General Motors re-

Buy Your Ford Car Now

To make sure of getting a Ford car, buy one now. Don't wait until spring but buy now while deliveries are possible. Even next month is an uncertainty.

The number of Ford cars allotted to this territory is limited and specified. Even to get our allotment, we must have real, bona-fide orders for cars. Just so many cars allotted us; just so many will get cars; will you be one of them? Those who order their cars now will be protecting themselves. If you would be forehanded, get your name on an order today:

Don't think you cannot use it if you get it now. The four seasons are all alike to the Ford car. It is a necessity every month of the year. Besides, the Ford car is lowest in upkeep cost and easiest in operation. And the new Ford electric starting and lighting system makes driving more convenient. Your order for either open or enclosed cars will have our prompt attention.

Call today, 55 either 'phone, and my salesmen will explain why you cannot afford to wait another day before placing your order.

Samson Sends Perring to Chicago Contab Tomorrow

BE LAUNCHED BY INDUSTRIAL MEN

(BY FRANK SINCLAIR.)

Moguls of a proposed new baseball league of the middle west will meet tomorrow at the Hotel La Salle, Chicago. the Hotel La Salle, Chicago.
Representing industrial concerns in 14 cities, they expect to get an organization under way not only to give each of these towns first rate professional teams, but a circuit that sional teams, but a circuit that will prove attractive to ball players.

The Samson Tractor company of this city plans to have a nine in the league. George Perring, former Cleveland American infielder, will represent the local concern at the Jimmy Keown, prominent baseball man of Chicago, fosters the new league. Associated with him will be a number of experts and enthusiasts who believe that this summer who delieve that this suiting is a ripe time to get diamonds started in the smaller cities. Under the proposed rules, only teams having players actually in the employ of the company represented will be given franchise in the circuit.

Hot Stove League Plays
Down at Samson the hot stove league is playing big league stuff.
With these big things in the air, the fans radiate keen satisfaction that at last the town will see real baseball. The list of players which Samson has prospects of gathering in their fold is an eye-opener. Nothing "sandlot" will be pulled; rather, the tentative list shows a collection of stars that will make the Beloit tairles mark time for a reputation, in fact, Samson hopes to relegate
the Gateway City team to number

Wisconsin Tackles Illinois Tonight: Severely Injured

Madison, Wis., Jan. 23.—Badger basketball hopes were set back considerably with successive defeats by Chicago and Iowa when Wisconsin lost to Chicago last Saturday, a defeat not entirely unexpected. Two nights later, however, the Cardinal team disappointed the home audience by allowing Iowa to come from behind with a big rally and nose out victory lowing lows to come from behind with a big rally and nose out victory by one point.

The turning point in the Iowa game came with the injury and retirement of Frank L. Weston, Eadger running guard. With Harlow Peans also on the sidelines with his leg in a cast, Wisconsin's defensive became demoralized.

Weston, who will be football captein next year, and was chosen allowstern end last fall, is a fighter on the court as well as on the gridiron. His aggressiveness and quick thinking make up for what "Red" may lack in basketball technique, and his return to the lineup, together with that of Pease, are essential to the Eadgers' success the remainder of this season.

They called him Picadilly Jim because almost every day his name appeared in headlines connecting him with some "freak" happening of the day previous. Just a few words spoken by an all-American young Miss provided the turning point in this young man's life. And you should just see what happened after that. Th' teacher here at Sandysinks tells of a talk they had On boys who were no angels still were never very bad, Who could learn if they'd try at ail, but never turned a hand At gettin' of their lessons, seeming like a fish on land A-flound'rin' and a-flippin'; flappin' round in aimless way. "Th' Backward Boy" hed been announced as topic of th' day.

Th' County Sup'rintendent called on some to air their views. An' one said this an' one said that each seemed t' take her cues Fr'm what precedin' speakers said. You know th' talky kind With nothin' very helpful nor constructive in her mind. One woman nearly always had a thing or two t' say, But she sat there a smilln' in a meditative way.

An' so he called on her. She said, in breezy sort o' style, With manner calm an' capable an' somewhat waggish smile, "The Backward Boy!' What'shall we do? I'd say let him alone, He'll go out west an' then some day when years an' years hev flown He'll come back home with stacks of coin an' then it's safe t' bet He'll gaze at you in wonder and exclaim, 'Are you here yet!'

There's nothin' holds the int'rest of th' gen'ral run o' men There's nothin' holds the introduction that Like watchin' boys a-growin' up because we live again. Th' trials an' tribulations of our early boyhood days, As well as joys an' jollity. We're onto all their ways Because of many lessons that experience hes taught An' sympathize most heartily an' try t' read their thought.

Th' brilliant boys, th' ploddin' boys, an' some thet's in between, Th' book o' life's before them with its pages sweet an' clean! We wonder as the years roll on what time will bring to each, Jest who will be contented with th' things within their reach An' who will grasp an' hanker after fadin', passin' joys An' so we get a line on them an' try to help th' boys.

These times are disconcertin'—take the wind out of our sails An' when we'd venture some advice our courage nearly fails. To many of us old folks foreign lands are hazy dreams But durin' war the young men saw an' learned so much it seems They gained in months a wisdom that we never gathered here. Their trench-fare buddies, Life an' Death, hey made their vision clean Farming was perhaps one of the first fields of labor which women entered and yet modernists think that women doing men's work is something new and unusual. Women tered and yet modernists think that women doing men's work is something new and unusual. Women farmed long before there were any such things as factories and offices. The women of foreign countries still farm and it is only here in America that the woman farmer is not present in large numbers. The woman farm manager and ranches, however, is still rather unusual and those women who are making a success of scientific farming on a large scale are few enough to be notable. One of the most recent of these to come to our attention is Mrs. Filtat Shephard. Mrs. Shephard is superintendent and general manager of the Jack London ranch in the Valley of the Moon at Gien Ellen, Cal. The Sonoma county ranch is one of the largest of its kind in the west and Mrs. Shephard is one of the weat's successful ranchers. Her admirers say that she is but another proof of woman's eligibility to the vote. This photograph of Mrs. Shephard was taken on the ranch when she was busy doing some of the real manual labor which is so often necessary when help can not be found.

In two minutes Curly had made himself famous, for he was a marked man. The last words of the struggling desperado had been that he would shoot on sight. Now half a dozen talked at once. Some another. He must get out of town. He must apologize at once to Stone. He must send a friend and explain.

The young man laughed grimly. "Explain nothing. I've done all the explaining I'm going to. And I'll not leave town either. If Soapy Stone wants me he'll sure find me."

"Don't be foolish kild. He has got four notches on that gun of his. And he's a dead shot."

Sprays and gargies and local remodies do not touch a cough of this kind. The system must be built up to throw it off.

Milks Emulsion is a pleasant, nutritive food and a corrective medicing. It restores healthy, natural howel action, doings away with all need of pills and physics. It promotes appetite and quickly puts the digestive organs in shape to assimilate food. As a builder of flesh and strength, Milks Emulsion is strongly recommended to those whom sickness, has weakened, and is a powerful aid in resisting and repairing the effects of wasting diseases. Chironic stompounting the site on and constipation are promptly relieved—usually in one day.

Given a chance, Curly would have run for it. But Soapy was a dead shot. Of a sudden the anger in the boy boiled up over the fear. In two jumps he covered the ground and jammed his face close to the coldrim of the blue-steel barrel.

"I'm not heeled. Shoot and be dammed, you coward. And with my last breath I'il tell you that you're a liar."

Flandran had called his. bluff, though he had not meant it as one. A dozen men were in sight and were watching. They had beard the young man tell Stone he was not armed. Public opinion would hold him to account if he shot Curly down in cold blood. He hung there undecided.

nuan tell Stone he was not armed Public opinion would hold him to account if he shot Curly down in cold hlood. He hung there undecided, breathing fast, his Jaw clamped tightly.

The lad hammered home his deflance. "Drop that gun, you fourflusher, and I'll whale you till you can't stand. Sabe? Call yourself a bad man, do you? Time I'm through with you there will be one tame wolf crawling back to Dead Cow with its tail between its legs."

The taunt diverted his mind, just as Curly had hoped it would. He thrust the revolver back into the holster and reached for his foe.

Then everybody, hitherto paraflyzed by the sight of a deadly weapthraged the two men apart. Curly awas thrust into a barber shop on the yoldragged the two men apart. Curly was thrust into a barber shop on the yoldragged the street and Stone was dragged back into the Silver Dollar.

Then overlybody, hitherto parafly was thrust into a barber shop on the yoldragged the two men apart. Curly was thrust into a barber shop on the straight of the street and Stone was dragged back into the Silver Dollar.

Then overlybody hitherto parafle were discussed curly had made himself famous, for he was a marked man. The last words of the struggling desperado had been that he would shoot on sight. Now half a dozen talked at once. Some advised Curly one thing, some another. He must get out of town. He mus

"Dad has gone to meet you. We've heard about what happened this morning."

Her father and Maloney entered the room. Cullison wrung his hand. "Glad to see you, boy. You're in luck that convict did not shoot you up when he had the chance. Saguache is sure buzzing this morning with the way you stood up for him. That little play of yours will help with the jury in September."

Curly thanked him, for going bail! Luck fixed his steel-spoked eyes on him. "By what Dick tells me you've more than squared that account."

Kate explained in her soft voice. "Dick told us why you went up to Dead Cow's creek."

"So! I hadn't a thing to do, so I just ran up there. Sam's in town with me. We're rooming together."

"Oh take me to him." Kate cried. "Not just now, honey." her father said gently. "This young man came here to tell us something. Or so I gathered from his friend Dayls."

Elandrau told his story, or all of it that would bear telling before a girl. He glossed over his account of the dissipation at the horse ranch, but he told all he knew of Laura London and her interest in Sam, but it was when he related what he had heard at Chalkeye's place that the interest grew most tense. Luck's eyes burned like live coals. The color faded from the face of his daughter so that her lips were gray, as cigar ashes. Yeet she sat up straight and did not flinch.

Let's Get This Hotel Matter Settled

Had you had definite assurance a year and a half ago that a plant like the Samson would locate here and were asked to supply your share of a bonus to bring such a plant to Janesville, you would have subscribed immediately. You would have subscribed because you could visualize an immediate increase in the value of all your holdings in this city, real estate and otherwise. You would have subscribed because you are a patriotic, loyal citizen of Janesville, ever alive to advance its best interest and because you would realize that to so subscribe was a duty. Nor would you have expected any direct financial return from your subscription.

The big plant did come to Janesville. They did not ask for any bonus. They have increased the value of your holdings, all of which has not cost you one cent.

Now it becomes necessary to build a modern 150 room, fire proof hotel to take care of the rapidly growing needs of the community and you are asked to subscribe your fair share towards this enterprise. You are not asked to donate, you are asked to invest. Stock in the Janesville Hotel Co., a corporation organized under Wisconsin laws, will pay 6% and will be preferred, both as to assets and dividends, redeemable at $110 and accrued interest. It is, therefore, a splendid investment both for the city's needs and for your purse.

This hotel project will further increase the value of your holdings when completed and thus becomes doubly profitable.

Do your fair share in this matter. Be ready, when the solicitors call, to subscribe as much as you can afford. This matter must go over at once. There can be no delay. It is vital to the growth of the community that the amount necessary, $400,000, be subscribed immediately.

Janesville looks to YOU.
